Confidence intervals and point estimates for specified sub populations Observed population sizes are presented as navy coloured points

