Confidence intervals and point estimates for specified sub populations
Observed population sizes are presented as navy coloured points